

ANIMAL WELFARE IN PRACTICE DAIRY COW WELFARE ASSESSMENT

SEPTEMBER 20–21, 2019

ATLANTIC VETERINARY COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
550 UNIVERSITY AVENUE
CHARLOTTETOWN, PEI CANADA

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 (OPEN TO ALL)

LECTURE THEATRE A, ATLANTIC VETERINARY COLLEGE

7:00–8:30 PM

On-farm welfare assessment: How do we know if dairy cows have good welfare?

Dr. Kathryn Proudfoot, Associate Professor, Veterinary Preventive Medicine,
Ohio State University College of Veterinary Medicine¹

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

LECTURE THEATRE A, ATLANTIC VETERINARY COLLEGE

9:00 AM

proAction—Current cow welfare assessment on-farm

Nancy Douglas, proAction Coordinator, Dairy Farmers of PEI

10:00 AM

The role of the NFAAC Dairy Code

Dr. Shawn McKenna, Associate Professor/Farm Service Chief, Atlantic Veterinary College

11:00 AM

Reducing the risk of lameness and hock lesions by improving cow comfort

Dr. Kathryn Proudfoot

LUNCH 12:00–1:00 PM

1:00 PM

Special needs housing from the cow's perspective

Dr. Kathryn Proudfoot

2:00–4:00 PM

Practical session: Improving animal welfare after you receive your assessment

REGISTRATION

Friday evening: no charge (all welcome!)

Saturday: students, no charge
veterinarians, $75
producers and others, $50

Note: Only 1 registration fee will be charged per clinic or per farm.
Lunch is included.
CE certificates will be provided to paid registrants.

To register: upei.ca/awc
or contact: animalwelfare@upei.ca

Registrations will be accepted until Tuesday, September 17.

Co-hosted by the Sir James Dunn Animal Welfare Centre, the AVC Animal Welfare Club (with support from the Animal Welfare Foundation of Canada), and the AVC Bovine Club

¹ Incoming Director, SJDAWC, and Associate Professor, Health Management and Companion Animals, AVC (as of October 1, 2019)

SIR JAMES DUNN ANIMAL WELFARE CENTRE

PROMOTING ANIMAL WELFARE THROUGH RESEARCH, SERVICE, AND EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY of Prince Edward ISLAND

